More on Scholarships:
Our students tell us that scholarships make a real difference to their university experience - giving them the time and energy to focus on their studies and make the most of the many opportunities that university offers.

I encourage you to check the details of the Vice-Chancellor's Scholarship program. Applications are online and close on Friday 15 November 2013.

A range of other scholarships are available to reward and support our first-year students including scholarships for sporting excellence and a range of other categories based on specific circumstances. Explore the full range of scholarships on offer at QUT.
2. QUT Holiday Workshops
Science, Technology, Engineering, Maths and Urban Development

Science, Technology, Engineering, Maths and Urban Development Holiday Workshops.

September - October Holiday Break
QUT has a range of FREE engaging and inspirational events and workshops for years 10 - 12 students covering all experience levels.

Students will have an opportunity to experience the STEM disciplines with practical and innovative workshops delivered by QUT STEM students.

Numbers are limited for all workshops, registrations required.

For the full program and to register visit www.qut.edu.au/science-engineering

Wednesday 25 September – Discover QUT
A full day of dedicated information sessions for parents, course information sessions for year 10, 11 and 12 students and hands-on 60 minute workshops across science, technology, engineering, mathematics and urban development to choose from:

Create a City
Students will test their town planning and collaboration skills to create a miniature city.

Processing 101: Design by Numbers
Receive an introduction to computational design and programming through the instant gratification of visual feedback, such as images, animations and interactions.

LittleBits
Receive an understanding of electronics through demonstration of concepts, with each bit having a specific function: light, sound, responsive sensor, switch, thermometer, pulse, or motor.

Exploration of the Science and Engineering Centre
The centre is a sustainable showpiece, certified with a 5-star Green Star rating and offers an environment that all future QUT students will want to be immersed in!

Monday 30 September – Engineering and Technology at QUT
Tuesday 1 October – Science and Mathematics at QUT
Developed especially for Year 11 and 12 students, this faculty-wide initiative will combine facilities tours, keynote lectures and interactive workshops to explore real-world research in engineering and technology (Monday) and science and mathematics (Tuesday).

Modelled on the first year science and engineering degrees, students will collaborate and apply their creativity and investigative skills on complex research topics such as: addressing environmental issues; solving problems in the energy, food and medical sectors; and improving information dissemination and security. They will work in teams of 3-4 and present their findings at the conclusion of the day.

Wednesday 2 October – Urban Planning at QUT
Using the Brisbane City plan, year 11 and 12 students will work collaboratively and compete against each other in the ‘create a city’ urban planning challenge. The one day workshop aims to increase awareness and positive perception of urban development and engineering courses and will include industry mentorship.
New majors - Bachelor of Science, Gatton campus
Two new majors in the Bachelor of Science are now offered exclusively at the Gatton Campus from 2014 to provide new career pathways in agriculture and take advantage of the exceptional teaching and research facilities at the campus.
The new majors are Animal and Veterinary Bioscience and Soil and Plant Biosciences. Bachelor of Science pre-requisites will apply: English, Maths B plus one of Physics or Chemistry.
They will provide well defined careers in agriculture and natural resource management with the Animal and Veterinary Bioscience major provide an additional pathway option into the Bachelor of Veterinary Science and Medicine.

11. Endeavour College of Natural Health

Bachelor of Health Science Degrees

Endeavour College of Natural Health is the largest Natural Medicine College in the Southern Hemisphere, with campuses in Adelaide, Brisbane, Gold Coast, Melbourne, Perth and Sydney. We offer the widest selection of Bachelor of Health Science degrees in Acupuncture, Homeopathy, Musculoskeletal Therapy, Naturopathy and Nutritional Medicine, of any education institution in Australia.

To apply, students need to have completed Year 12 or equivalent. An OP/ATAR score is not required and entry is based on a face-to-face interview with an Admissions Advisor. Plus, with Fee Help and VET Fee Help available on selected courses; students can study now and pay later.

Bachelor of Health Science Nutritional Medicine

A Nutritional Medicine practitioner views food, diet and nutritional supplements from the perspective of their therapeutic potential, providing dietary advice to clients and prescribing nutritional supplements to assist in the treatment of a broad range of health conditions.

Naturopathy career paths may include running a natural healthcare practice, blogging about a nutrition journey or even writing an inspiring nutrition-based book (all of the above please!)

Bachelor of Health Science Musculoskeletal Therapy

Musculoskeletal Therapy (MST) is a branch of manual medicine which focuses on the treatment and management of musculoskeletal pain and dysfunction. MST involves an extensive physical evaluation and an integrated therapeutic approach in the treatment of affected muscles, joints and nerves.

It uses standard methods of assessment such as postural evaluation, neurological and functional testing to determine the particular cause of musculoskeletal pain and associated dysfunction. MST is a great alternative course for students interested in studying physiotherapy, but may not achieve their desired result for entry.

MST career paths may include working with elite athletes, sports teams or running their own healthcare practice.

12. How to Write a Successful Resume

Steps to Writing a CV

Does your CV dot point your key skills including “excellent communication”, “outstanding teamwork” and “exceptional attention to detail”? That’s great – but so does the other 200 applications on your future employer’s desk.

The Curriculum Vitae is a sales document and its major purpose is to get you an interview. The key to getting your CV into the “Let’s have a closer look pile” is to present your knowledge, skills and experience in a way that convinces the employer that you best meet their selection criteria – on the first page of your CV. This will take a bit of work, but the time you invest now is well worth the outcome.

The following three steps look at CV writing from a sales perspective.

1. Know Your Customer
Research the Industry, Occupation and Employer To mould your own experience to what your potential employer is looking for, you first need to understand the requirements from the employer’s perspective.

You can become an expert in an industry by:
• Developing a portfolio of information on the industry, employer and relevant position/s
• Collecting relevant job advertisements, position descriptions and résumé’s
• Collecting relevant media articles and identify key industry issues
• Talking to people already working within your preferred job / industry

2. Know Your Product
Gather Information About You Brainstorm a complete list of your achievements, strengths, abilities, work experience, education, training, community service, sporting achievements and any other achievements that stand out.

Remember to:
Avoid being self-critical and truly look at why you’re worth what you’re currently paid or want to be paid. Identify examples of results that are an outcome of your work.

Recently I had a client who struggled with this until talking to ex-team members found that she had contributed 22,000 new clients in her last role amounting to millions of dollars of revenue. Imagine how much more confident you’d be feeling after a discovery like this!

Be as specific as you can listing percentage improvements, revenue contributions or efficiency gains. Be factual rather than just make general statements.

“I believe teamwork is an essential component of a productive workplace.” Yes, but so does everyone else. Rather “As a member of the Sales and Marketing team I initiated a Demand Generation Strategy contributing 2.7% ($4M) growth in revenue…”

This and other demonstrations of your skills ensure your CV gets to the top of the selection pile.

3. Meet the Customer’s Needs
When writing your CV remember your first draft doesn’t have to be perfect and you should schedule no more than 30 minutes to 1 hour to write a first draft.

Consider the following:
• There are three major CV formats you can choose from including Chronological, Functional or Combination. You should ensure the format you choose is best suited to your needs.
• To the employer your CV is you, so make sure their first impression is outstanding. In addition to addressing each of the selection criteria you identified from your research try to leave them with a positive impression after reading your first page.
• Don’t expect to write your CV in one sitting! Your CV is a sales document that requires careful consideration.

Be prepared to draft it carefully considering the following pointers:

1. Be clear and to the point (quality not quantity)
2. Do not go back further in time than about 10 years unless appropriate
3. Always proofread carefully for spelling, grammar and accuracy
4. Ask friends and family to revise and proofread also
5. Use well chosen verbs to emphasise your achievements
6. Emphasise the benefits to the employer – not the benefits you want
7. Clearly explain your achievements not merely responsibilities
8. Avoid excessive detail about personal interests
9. Only ever submit a first class CV.
10. Revise your CV regularly, especially if it is not getting the desired result

Career transition can be difficult without effective marketing material. Your CV is integral to your successful career transition – ensure you make it sensational!

Seek professional assistance if you require help, it can be an investment that will save you lots of anguish.

14. Gap Medics

Career in Medicine

The most effective way of helping students who want to become doctors, midwives, nurses or dentists

When it comes to a career as a doctor, midwife, dentist or nurse the decision to study for this is obviously a big commitment both for students and their families. At Gap Medics we offer students (aged 16 and over) the opportunity to see what the world of medicine is really like. Through our facilities they travel to Tanzania, The Czech Republic or Thailand to shadow experienced doctors and healthcare professionals. Not only does this experience help students to make the right decision about their future career, but it is also a useful addition later on for their applications to medical school.

Our hospital work experience is ideal for those students who are interested in medicine, nursing, dentistry or midwifery.

In terms of the practicalities, students are met at the airport by one of our specialist staff team members and are looked after by an extensive staff team throughout their stay. If you have any students who are interested in a career in medicine, there are several ways of giving them the relevant information.

- First, you can of course pass on this email.
- Second you can direct the student to our website at www.gapmedics.com.au to find out a lot of detailed information regarding the placements
- Third you can click here to print out some information to pass to your prospective healthcare students.
- Finally they can call us on 0044 191 230 8080 or email us at info@gapmedics.com and we'll send a brochure in the post.

Student Placement Team Leader
2nd September 2013

Dear Principal and Year 12 Coordinator,

The C.A.S. Hawker Scholarship is one of the most generous privately funded scholarships available to undergraduate students in Australia. Each residential scholarship is valued at up to $45,000 over three years.

Information about the C.A.S. Hawker Scholarship and an application form are available at www.hawkerscholarship.org or by contacting the secretary to the Trustees on 08 8127 1654.

The Charles Hawker Scholarship perpetuates the memory of scholar, soldier and pastoralist Charles Allan Seymour Hawker and commemorates the achievements of one of Australia’s most respected statesmen.

In 2011, the Trustees awarded four scholarships to students from three states and the ACT. Governor-General Ms Quentin Bryce AC presented the students with their scholarships at a function at Government House in Canberra. Last year two scholarships were presented by South Australian Governor Rear Admiral Kevin Scarce AC CSC RANR and earlier this year, South Australian Premier Hon Jay Weatherill MP presented four C.A.S. Scholarships to students from three states.

The scholarships are available to all Australian students. The majority have been awarded to students entering their first year of university study.

Selection is largely based on personal qualities and demonstrated leadership as well as academic ability. Undergraduate Hawker Scholars are able to attend a range of Australian educational institutions and Cambridge University UK.

I’d respectfully encourage you to inform your year 12 students about the opening date of the 2014 Scholarship and direct them to the website.

Yours sincerely,

Ian Doyle B Ed, Dip Ed
School Coordinator

16. Ski & Snowboard Instructor Internship Opportunity

Previously full, EA have just released 4 more places on their popular Ski and Snowboard Instructor Internship Program during the 2013/14 winter season in Canada. This is the final recruitment stage for the coming Northern Hemisphere winter.

The Program is offered in conjunction with top ski resorts and is very popular with school leavers because it provides an opportunity to obtain paid employment and complete an internationally recognised ski or snowboard instructing qualification.

Interested Students can find out more and see if they qualify by going to the following link: Student application form. This will also give them online access to an instructor starter kit – with handy information on becoming a ski or snowboard instructor.

Successful applicants will receive:

- A GUARANTEED offer of employment as a Ski or Snowboard Instructor which includes uniform, full season pass and discount deals
- Early season orientation, instructor training and accommodation package - Everything sorted so all you have to do is ski or ride!
- International Instructor Association membership and level one ski or snowboard examination
- Training, support and further qualifications throughout the season
- Assistance and support with obtaining Working Holiday Visas, flights and insurances (in partnership with STA Travel)

EA are looking for school leavers who:

* Have a passion for skiing or snowboarding (Low level intermediate to advanced ability welcome)
* Have a willingness to learn through training and working
* Have an interest in travel and adventure
* Are available between December and April
* Will be 18 years of age by November
* Are looking for a life changing experience
* Have the financial support to participate

* Limited positions available: Due to limited instructor employment positions it is very important that students apply now. Many miss out each season.

Interested Students can see if they qualify online here: Student application form. This will also provide access to an online instructor starter kit – with handy information on becoming a ski or snowboard instructor.
