Filmmaking is an exciting, collaborative, creative pursuit and has never been more accessible or affordable. To make good films, however, we need to understand the essentials, using all the tools and personnel at our disposal.

We can look for information online but there’s nothing better than learning from leading, award-winning filmmakers, including screenwriter Mac Gudgeon (Last Ride, Killing Time), director Nadia Tass (Malcolm, The Big Steal, Amy), Cinematographer Ellery Ryan (Van Diemen’s Land, The Brush-Off, I Love You Too), sound designer Craig Carter (Romeo + Juliet, Rabbit Proof Fence, Cut Snake) and composer Cezary Skubiszewski (Red Dog, The Sapphires), among others. As Filmmaking Summer School instructors they deliver a lifetime’s knowledge and insight into filmmaking and the film industry.

Learn all aspects of practical film production in this intensive summer school. Areas covered are screenwriting, acting and directing, cinematography, production and sound design, editing, digital effects, film music, documentary filmmaking (two days) and the revolutionary two-day course in low-budget/no-budget filmmaking.

Fully structured courses are available, or you can choose your own sessions.

The summer school is open to people of all ages with little or no filmmaking experience, practising filmmakers wanting to upskill or change career direction, actors, media teachers and students, production companies wishing to train staff, photographers wanting to move to the moving image, and anyone wanting to understand and learn all the steps involved in great filmmaking.
