6. Projects Abroad
Overseas Volunteering Projects

Year 10 & 11 overseas volunteer projects running this summer!

Places are still available on our High School Volunteer Projects for 2014/15 – and it’s not too late to get involved! The High School Projects are a constructive, busy and well supervised introduction to service in the developing world. The two week trips attract students from all over Australia, New Zealand and beyond; students in year 10 and 11 can choose to join the groups individually or with friends.

The volunteer trips are running this summer in December and January – we have Care and Community Projects in Cambodia, Nepal, Vietnam, Fiji and Sri Lanka, and a Medicine & Healthcare Project in Nepal.

The projects are an opportunity to experience a different culture and make a positive impact in a local community whilst in a safe supported group. All the projects are a great balance of volunteer work and cultural activities. We will be running an interactive online information session on 25th August, this is a chance to learn what each project entails and how we run them while being able to ask questions. Registration is here.

Further information about the High School Projects and how to get involved can be found here.

Care & Community project in Cambodia

On this project you will have the opportunity to become immersed in what is a beautiful, warm culture whilst supporting the education and development of young children in disadvantaged areas of Cambodia. You will spend time with children who benefit from the chance to learn, play and have fun with you – organising games, teaching English, educating the children and local community in subjects such as hygiene and the environment are just a few of the activities you’ll be involved in!

Kate Lewis talks about her experience on the Care & Community High School Project in her story here.

Nepal – Experience for Budding Medical Students

For anyone who is interested in medicine and healthcare, the High School Project is an incredible way to gain an insight into how medicine is practiced in Nepal. However, as Emily explains, she gained more than just an insight into the hospitals, clinics and worked with doctors and patients, learning much about medicine; she was able to experience the unique and beautiful Nepali culture and have quite an adventure.

Take a look at Emily’s story here.

To look over a scrapbook from the December 2013 project please click here.
Nepal – Care and Community

For more than 10 years Projects Abroad has been working with schools and care centres in and around the Kathmandu Valley. On this project, students split their time between organising educational games and activities for disadvantaged children, with renovation work at a school or care centre. By brightening up a classroom and playground with some colour, or arranging a sports day for all the children, volunteers have the opportunity to make a valuable and lasting contribution to the placement. Students also have the chance to discover Nepali culture, history and traditions. Among the cultural activities, they will take part in yoga classes, visit temples and spend the weekend at the world renowned Chitwan National Park.
To get a feel for what the experience on this project is really like, have a read of Jack Goudie's story here.

Sri Lanka – Care and Community

Situated along the south-west coast of Sri Lanka, here students will focus on running educational classes for children at community centres and kindergartens – creating a safe, fun and interactive place for them during their holidays. Students will be fully involved in creating activities such as educational games, sports and arts, as well as workshops in first-aid and hygiene. The project also involves the renovation of the centres, making them a brighter place for the children to be. With the civil war ending in 2009, Sri Lanka is a safe, beautiful, and fascinating island to visit. Living with a host family allows students to fully discover and appreciate the unique culture, customs and traditions of Sri Lanka. At the weekend, students will soak up the history and religion of Sri Lanka by visiting places of significant importance.
Watch a video of previous volunteers sharing their experience on the project here.
