QTAC application issue
An issue that has arisen is that students are entering their secondary studies twice. Under the section titled ‘Secondary Education’, we ask that students select ‘No’ to the question Have you completed or will you complete Year 12/senior secondary studies? Selecting ‘Yes’ will just lead to a doubling up of work for them, and for us. The question will be changed on 22 August in an effort to clarify this question, and stop any more confusion. For more information, email go.enquiries@qtac.edu.au.

2. Want to teach in a Lutheran school?

Want to teach in a Lutheran school?

Australian Lutheran College (ALC) offers a Christian Studies minor (Lutheran Strand) to students enrolled in any education degree who intend to teach in Lutheran or other faith based schools.

The Lutheran Strand consists of two components:

1. Four semester length units available as intensives in Adelaide and Brisbane or online.
   - Exploring the Bible
   - The Christian Faith
   - Principles and Context of Lutheran Schooling
   - The Practice of Lutheran Education

2. A final professional experience practicum in a Lutheran school.

Depending on which university you attend and the course that you are completing, you may be able to cross credit some of these units into your Bachelor of Education.

ALC graduates are attractive to Lutheran schools because they are already qualified to teach Christian Studies. We work in partnership with schools to ensure that a high percentage of our graduates obtain teaching positions in their first year out.

Learn more about the Lutheran Strand by visiting http://www.alc.edu.au/education/schools-at-alc/set/programs-for-preservice-teachers/

6. Careers in Sport

With the Rio Olympics on, the focus this month is careers in sport. We are a sporting nation so we explore what opportunities there are for young people in Sport, Fitness and Recreation.

All personality styles are attracted to sports. Most people think first of athletes and coaches, but there are also referees, umpires, broadcasters, marketing specialists, agents, equipment managers, dieticians, sports psychologists, trainers and many more positions. Sport is a business that needs managers, accountants and statisticians.

Educational advantage will often open the door to sports positions. For instance, if you want to be in sports PR, get a degree in journalism. If you want to be a sports agent, a master's degree in sports management or a business degree can help. Specific sports such as golf have qualifications Diploma in Golf Management and with over 1500 golf courses in Australia there's a demand for qualified managers and staff.

If ever there was a list of diverse, challenging and rewarding careers, sport and sport recreation roles would be close to the top. Today, more and more people are taking part in physical activity, either for the health benefits it provides or purely for social and recreational purposes. This increase in demand means Australia needs more skilled people who are able to provide these services in a safe, fun and professional manner.

If you are a person that enjoys physically activity, loves interacting with people of all ages and backgrounds, and enjoys helping people achieve their goals, a job in the sport, fitness and recreation industry may be for you.

There are 68,907 people employed in occupations covered by these sectors according to the Australian Bureau of Statistics.

The sport, fitness and recreation industries plays a crucial role in the health and wellbeing of Australians. The positive impact they have on the health of both the population, and by extension, our economy, cannot be underestimated.

These are a few websites we recommend you explore to discover careers in sport, fitness and leisure.
