Talented teen to run for Oz

SAMANTHA Johnson, 15, has been identified as an athlete with potential to excel in the sport from an early age of 10 when she received her first medal in the 100m. She has since been competing at school and local championships. By the age of 15, she has already won silver and bronze medals at the Queensland state championships. Currently training at Lakeside swimming club and continued competition with stunning 14.5 seconds in the 100m, she has made the Australian National Junior Swimming team for 2015.

She has been identified as an athlete with potential to excel in the sport from an early age of 10. Currently a Year 11 student at St Bernard's College, Samantha has been competing at school and local championships since the age of 10 when she received her first medal in the 100m.